Convention of the Manufacturers and Free Trade Association of the Confederate States.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 19.

The Manufacturers and Free Trade Association, pursuant to the call of the President, met at 41 Masonic Hall in this city to-day.

On motion, the name of the organization was changed to the Manufacturer's Association of the Confederate States of America. The former Secretary being absent, F. Strobhar was appointed Secretary pro tempore. The following delegates answered to their names:

W Gregg, of Graniteville, S C.
W Gregg, Jr, Graniteville, S C.
J J Gregg, Graniteville, S C.
W E Jackson, Augusta, Ga.
J C Beman, Troupe Factory, Ga.
Isaac Powell, High Shoals, Ga.
H P Hammett, Batesville, S C.
B Steadman, Lawrenceville, Ga.
John White, Athens, Ga.
G Cannon, Fingerville, S C.
R F Lester, Buena Vista, S C.
A V Brumby, New Manchester, Ga.
W J Russell, New Manchester, Ga.
John N Grady, McBean, S C.
J McDonald, Concord Factory
Geo H Camp, Roswell Mills.
John Thompson, Hopewell Factory.
John E Oldan, Rockford, Tenn.

The President then called upon delegates for their estimates of the cost of production of cotton goods. After full discussion, the President on motion, appointed a committee of three with instructions to report upon the estimates presented by the various Factories in regard to the actual cost of the production of cotton goods. The Committee consisted of W E Jackson, Geo H Camp and A V Brumby, to the Committee was added the President. The association adjourned to meet at 3½ o'clock, p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION, 3½ o'clock, p. m.

The Association met according to adjournment. The committee on cost of production, through their chairman, submitted as their report the following preamble and resolution, which was on motion adopted:

Whereas, the Manufacturers' Convention, after comparing notes as to the immense advance upon every article in use pertaining to the cost of producing goods, viz: Cotton, labor, oil alcohol, varnish, gums, leather in its various uses, card clothing and hand cars for stripping cylinders, steel, iron, files, hardware, shuttles, bobbins, reeds, steel travellers, steel spindles, tin, Babbet's metal solder, nails, screws and a thousand other articles largely in use, most of which has increased over 1,000 per cent. in value, and some extend to the fabulous advance of 10,000 per cent; Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Manufacturers' Convention consider, from Actual estimates presented, the present cost of production of cotton goods to be equal to 50 cents per pound, and deem it unsafe to bargain with government at any fixed price to extend beyond one month, without the establishment of a sliding scale by which the price may be varied from month to month, as the cost of production may advance

W. E. JACKSON,
GEO. H. CAMP,
A. V. BRUMBY, } Committee.

After receiving the report, on motion of G. Garmon, the Association adjourned to meet at Columbia, S. C., the time subject to the pleasure of the President, who is requested to issue a circular giving manufacturers notice of the time appointed and urge their general attendance.

Fight at Kinston.

We learn that on Tuesday the 11th instant, (says the Wilmington Journal) a portion of our forces stationed at Kinston, drove in the Yankee pickets till within six miles of Newbern, killing some eight or ten but making no prisoners. Among the property captured from the enemy, some ten fat hogs, some poultry, some cotton cards, and sixty dollars in specie, to say nothing of hoop skirts and other female toggery left behind in their hasty flight.

The troops engaged on our side were of the 8th, 10th, 31st and 51st N. C. Infantry, Nethercut's Rangers, with Buntings, and a part of Starr's battery and one Cavalry company. The whole under command of Col. H. M. Shaw of the 8th Reg't, the Senior Colonel. Two companies of the 51st and two of the 31st, with Nethercut's Rangers, were detached to operate against a force on the Railroad, which they drove in.

News Summary.

On Wednesday night, November 12, the dwelling of Mr. Jared Everitt, about five miles from Thomasville, Ga., was destroyed by fire, together with nearly all of his furniture, family clothing, &c. A negro was arrested on suspicion; he confessed his crime, and is now in jail.

A mill, the property of Mrs. L P Milton, some fifteen miles from Thomasville, Ga., was destroyed lately. A negro, supposed to be a runaway, was seen to put the fire to the mill. He was fired at by some person watching, but effected his escape.

The Rockfish Manufacturing Company of Fayetteville, N. C., having decided to comply with the terms of the "Exemption Act" passed by the Congress of the Confederate States, will sell their goods to merchants in North Carolina on the same terms as they furnish the State, on condition that the parties purchasing will enter into obligation to sell the same by the piece to consumers at a profit not exceeding five cents per yard. It is intended to confine their sales to one firm in each town.

P. T. Bartrum, of Macon, Ga., offers for sale machines for making shoe pegs.

It is reported that up to the middle of October, Flannigan, the Governor elect of Arkansas, who was with Kirby Smith in Kentucky, did not know that he had been elected, or even that he had been a candidate.

A rich scene recently transpired at the depot in Knoxville, Tenn., of the East Tennessee and Virginia Railroad. A woman entered the depot and looking around spied a pile of sacks of salt in one corner. With a bound and exclamation "here it is!" she ripped open one of the sacks, filled a bucket in a twinkling, and then turning to the astonished President of the Road, who was standing by, triumphantly exclaimed, "I've got it—now touch me, if you dare." It is needless to say that she was allowed to march off with her prize.

A member of a Partisan corps in Tennessee was captured some time ago by the Yankees and hung. The Colonel of the regiment subsequently caught some Yankees, and forthwith hung five of them. He then sent word to the Yankee General what he had done, and stated that he had adopted it as his rule of warfare to hang five Yankees for every Confederate so treated by the enemy. The result has been that no more of his men are hung, but regularly exchanged.

The net profits of the Mississippi penitentiary for the year ending the last of October, were $78,807.

All manner of crime appears to be committed at Richmond. A man was assassinated in the streets a few nights since.

Nearly all the shoes in Atlanta have been seized by order of Gen. Bragg for his soldiers.

☞ A writer at Harper's Ferry for an Abolition paper, after stating that the Lincoln troops there have plenty of clothing and food, encourages them to deeds of valor by contrasting their condition with that of the Confederate troops. "Every one," says he, "will agree with me that our troops have no cause to murmur when they see what I have seen Rebel soldiers captured with spurs made fast to shoeless heels, and all in rags and tatters."

☞ The Aberdeen (Miss.) Sunny South, of Nov. 15th, is informed by farmers from the surrounding country, that the snow and freeze of the 25th ult. killed the mast in that section. The editor has examined some large white oak acorns himself, and finds them quite black inside. He has resided in that section for thirty years, and does not remember such a disaster ever to have occurred there before.

The New York World thinks it is the deliberate purpose of the Republicans to prevent such Democratic State officers as are elected entering on the discharge of their duties. A Provost Marshal is to notify them that the Administration has prepared free lodgings for them in Fort Lafayette. The outlines of the plan are stated in the following quotation from the Times:

Martial law over the entire North is a national necessity. If the Governors of the Northern States manifest a factious spirit, the Provost Marshal, it is presumed will have the power to keep them in order. If State Legislatures should undertake to interfere with the action of the General Government necessary to the prosecution of the war, they will come under the action of the martial law, and if the action of any political party shall threaten to change or paralyze the movements of the Government, it will doubtless be competent for the Provost Marshal in any State to suspend political meetings and postpone elections. If the Constitution of the United States is to be construed according to the necessities of a civil war of vast proportions, the Constitution of individual States cannot be allowed to stand in the way of its vigorous prosecution.

The Fanny Lewis.

Another of the crew of the Brig Fanny Lewis escaped a watery grave. He was with six others on the brig's large boat when it capsized; they all clung to the upset boat, while she drifted out to sea, until one after another dropped off, and he alone was left, when the boat grounded on Baldhead beach. He was about five hours clinging to the sunken boat, and was nearly exhausted when he landed. The party floated out very near the Yankee gunboats, but their signals were unheeded. The three men saved were Jno. Britton, Wm. Orton and Chas. Burbank. The whole cargo and probably the vessel will be saved. The squall on yesterday carried away her top-gallant mast, but did no material damage.—Wilmington Journal.

THE OLD DRUMMER OF CHALMETTE.—The old negro drummer, Jordan, of historic fame as drummer at the battle of New Orleans, in conformity with the order of Beast Butler, handed in a complete list of his property for confiscation by the Lincoln Government, and declared himself "an enemy of the United States." The Lousiana Democrat says:

The thousands of those citizens in New Orleans pretending to be loyal, who have sworn allegiance to the United States, for the purpose of saving their property, must have blushed from shame when they saw this old negro voluntarily stripping himself of his hard earned gains, and becoming penniless in the evening of his days, rather than yield obedience to a Government which has become an object of the contempt of the civilized world.

LEATHER FOR SHOES.—A correspondent of the Montgomery Advertiser says that a large amount of leather, suitable for making soles to soldiers' shoes, might be obtained if the planters would give up their gin bands for the purpose. He promises to give one, which will keep the feet of fifteen or twenty soldiers off the ground. We have no doubt that considerable good sole leather might be obtained in that way.

"THE REBELS BUILDING A NAVY IN ENGLAND."

The Yankee papers will have it that "the rebels are building a navy in England." The New York Tribune says:

It is said that the efforts of the rebels in Europe toward the formation of a navy there have been attended with good success, and there are now, in various European ports, no less than fifteen iron clad steamers in various stages of progress, of which eight are nearly ready for sea.—These eight vessels already have their armament on board, and it is said that on a given day they, in company with the steamer "290," will rendezvous at some convenient point, and will cross the Atlantic in company; that they will steer direct for New York bay, sail up and attack New York. The armor of these vessels is said to be such that they will be invulnerable to the effects of any known projectile, while their armament is said to embrace guns and mortars of the most approved construction. It is said that the power of this fleet will be such that they will be able to lay the entire city in ashes, but that they expect that, in order to avert this calamity, the city will be surrendered to them. And this is only the beginning of the exploits that are expected of this new rebel navy.

No doubt there is much idle brag in all this. But it may be wise to provide against such an attempt. Intelligence from other sources has demonstrated the fact that the rebels are really having iron clad vessels built in European ports. There is no doubt that the rebel Government is preparing to strike a blow with their navy somewhere.

Arrest of two of Gen. McClellan's Staff Officers.

TRENTON, N. J. Nov. 14.

Lieutenant Colonel A. P. Colburn and J. C. Duane, of the Engineer corps, both belonging to the staff of Gen. McClellan, were sent to Washington this morning under arrest.

It is said that the orders were received by an officer of the United States army in this city, and that the persons named repaired at once to Washington to place themselves at the disposal of the authorities.

A report prevails here that other members of General McClellan's staff are to be put under arrest.

The charges against them are unknown.

A large number of the citizens of Trenton and others are paying their respects this morning to the recent commander of the army of the Potomac.

The State Street House is thronged with persons anxious to greet him, despite his wish to remain perfectly quiet.

A deputation is on its way from Philadelphia to pay its respects.

From the Atlanta Confederacy.]

MR. EDITOR: The following paragraph, with the annexed query, appeared in the Carolinian of Wednesday:

A shoemaker in Knoxville, the other day, charged $30 for a pair of boots. He was at once taken under the Exemption act and conscripted for extortion!

What would the people of Knoxville think of the Columbia price for boots—$25?

Now a few comments may not be deemed out of place. Two years ago the Columbia shoemakers could buy the best French calf skins at from $30 to $36 per dozen, and sole leather at 14 to 30 cents per lb. Then for the finest boots they charged $10 per pair, and none of them ever grew rich at those figures. At the present time they pay $355 per dozen for French skins, and $2 75 to $3 per pound for sole leather, and charge only $35 per pair for boots. Taking the above figures, which every one will know to be correct, is it not plain and palpable that their profits must be very much less now than then. Nobody complained then—is it sensible or just to complain now? The farmer and butcher sells their hides at $1 per pound—ten prices—and the tanner sells his leather at from $2 75 to $3 per pound—ten prices—and it is all well enough but the poor shoemaker after having to pay these prices, without sympathy from any one, is abused and the papers say arrested, for charging $30 to $35 for his boots—only these and a half prices. Planters and military officers, and State sinecurists may sell their produce at five or ten prices, and fatten on their salaries, drawn by taxation out of the people, and they are patriots. A mechanic charges $6 or $12 for shoes or $35 for his boots, and he is a "demon and a vulture," and is arrested. O justice! O liberty! is this thy home?

The idea seems to be that a mechanic has no right to make more than enough to keep him from starvation. A slave to these landed proprietors and gentlemen of position in ordinary times, if they think he is getting out of their clutches now, and becoming somewhat independent, there is a general roar in the den, and it is determined that he must be devoured—hence he is published as a sinner, and declared to be an enemy to his country.

Now, as to the Knoxville arrest, if any such thing occurred, it is only another evidence that we have some sappy heads in high places who, anxious to exercise their little brief authority, violate all law, and common sense and decency. And whatever the people of Knoxville may think of it, I have yet more hope of South Carolina than to think that her people will hold the shoemaker responsible for the prices of shoes when the cattle raisers and tanners are pocketing, perhaps nine-tenths of the profits. Perhaps this military charlatan of Knoxville, like Toombs, had planted a double crop of cotton, or like your correspondent "D," has sold his wheat at $5 per bushel, and then in proof of his patriotism had the poor shoemaker arrested for high prices. It would certainly seem that any one with brains enough to compass two ideas, might discriminate between shoemakers and cotton manufacturers—the one paying twelve prices, and in some instances thirty prices—as in buying thread for instance for his materials, and selling his work at an average of four or five prices and the other paying two prices for the bulk of his materials, and in many cases not that, and selling his goods at from five to eight prices. In Heaven's name subdue passion, and let common sense and good feeling prevail.

FIAT JUSTATIA.

Grand Army Stealing.

From the Atlanta Confederacy.]

Yesterday Col. Lee had his time occupied in an investigation which developed one of the grandest and boldest stealing transactions that have yet come to light among the army thieves.

The facts in the case, as we have been informed, are about as follows: For four or five days the police observed two military gentlemen covering rather more ground than became plain, honest soldiers—such as loud talking, signs of running the blockade, &c.; and as the parties had not reported at Headquarters, they were closely watched. They had established a big camp out about two miles from the city, and were doing a driving business with such enterprising gentlemen as were seeking investments. They had at their Headquarters five large government wagons, heavily loaded with that "Bragg jeans," 22 fine mules and horses, and all the paraphernalia of a by camp.

The concern was accompanied by eight men—Mr. Fulton, Wagon Master of the 55th Georgia Regiment, and some subordinates. They were met here by Captain Westmoreland, A. Q. M. of the same regiment, who states that he was cut off from the main army in the great retreat; that at Knoxville and Dalton he tried to ship the goods by railroad, but the agent would not receive them, but that all was right, only he had been a little careless, though no wrong had been intended.

Mr. Fulton stated, when first arrested that he had sold none of the goods, but several gentlemen of this place having made purchases from him, and the fact being made known, he then stated that he had not been paid off, and had to sell a few loose articles to pay expenses. But on examination, he was found to have near $2,500 loose change about his clothes.

From present lights, it appears to be a grand wholesale thieving expedition, under cover and protection of Confederate uniforms and official commissions.

We have often been told, and firmly believe, that numbers of the Government officers, in various parts of the country, are robbing and stealing on a large scale; but not knowing the facts, and knowing that there are many honest men filling offices, we have been silent for fear of doing injustice to the innocent. But we do hope, for the sake of our bleeding country and suffering poor, that summary and terrible justice will be meted out to all who may be found guilty of these heinous crimes; and we are fully persuaded that they are not few.

Col. Lee has all this hand in custody, and has turned the big camp and all its appurtenances, worth some $60,000 to $70,000 over to Captain Bacon, P. Q. M. in this city. We will keep posted on the progress of this affair, and speak of it as developements are made.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Later From the North.

RICHMOND, Nov. 22.

The Baltimore American of Wednesday thinks that the junction of the Fredericksburg and Gordonsville Railroad will be the scene of battle in the new campaign.

The latest accounts from Nashville represent that Gen. Rosencranz is hasting the completion of the repairs to the railroad between that city and Louisville, so that the regular receipts of supplies can be assured.

The second draft in Connecticut has been indefinitely postponed.

Hon. Wm. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, has written a letter in which he declines to be a candidate for the United States Senatorship, and proposes a plan for the adjustment of national difficulties.

Warrenton, Va., has been evacuated by the abolitionists, but the Federal Government train still runs out to Manassas Junction, but it is probable that the road will soon be abandoned, and the bridges destroyed.

Vera Cruz advices of Nov. 1st, state that no further engagement had taken place.

Several vessels, including a French man of war, had been wrecked in the late gale.

A special dispatch to the New York Evening Post, dated Washington, Nov. 19th, says: It is believed here that an attack upon Charleston will not be long delayed. The preparations for the attack are so perfect that there can be no doubt whatever, that one or more ironclads will succeed in approaching the town, at least within shelling distance.

Further from the North.

RICHMOND, Nov. 23.

The New York World of the 19th states that the rebel schooner Emma, laden with cotton, and bound to Jamaica, was captured off Valasco, Texas.

The Stevens Battery—Naugatuck—left Hoboken on the 17th to test her new guns—result satisfactory.

McClellan is expected to visit New York, where a grand ovation awaits him. General Banks has declined the invitation to address the citizens.

The New York World, in a vigorous article on the administration, asks: Can we govern the South by military satraps? Is the beau ideal of a restored Union the spectacle of one half the country held in subjection by the other? It is not alone the purpose of the administration to subdue the Southern armies, but to impoverish the Southern people by the wholesale confiscation of their property—a thing never heard of in the annals of civilized warfare. Adoption of such measures is a deliberative murdering of every cord that can rebind the fragments of the Union—its an attempt to replace our glorious Union by a military despotism, which would rob us of our liberties and eat our substance.

A Dublin letter, of October 30, says that the Catholics of Ireland are raising immense sums for a monument to Daniel O'Connell.

A Baltimore letter says General Wool will be superceded by General Schenck, of Ohio.

William G. Brown, Mayor of Baltimore, who has been imprisoned for eighteen months in Fort Warren, it is thought will be released.

According to a Washington correspondent, General Hooker has expressed the opinion that General Burnside cannot take Richmond; that some diversion of the enemy must be created somewhere south of the rebel capital, and seemed to intimate such diversion was not intended in the present plans.

The New York World discredits the story of a fleet of iron-clads fitting out in Europe for the Confederates.

From the West.

CHATTANOGA, Nov. 22.

All is quiet in front. We are without late papers from Nashville or Louisville. General Wheeler, who is in command of our cavalry advance, has stopped all communication through the line.

From Fredericksburg,

RICHMOND, Nov. 22,

Without positive information from Fredericksburgh, it is believed no fighting took place there to-day. The Abolitionists, it is said, have concluded to await the removal of the women and children before insisting active hostilities. Some families have arrived to-day from Fredericksburg. The indications are that fighting may begin to morrow.

Manassas Abandoned

RICHMOND, Nov. 22.

Official dispatches were received on Saturday stating that Mannassas Junction and Stone Bridge have been abandoned by the enemy and large quantities of stores destroyed. A large fire was seen at Bull Run.

Shurz and Staples' division under Seigel, passed through Centresville to Washington.

RICHMOND, Nov. 23.

Relible parties state that an understanding has been arrivod at by which the enemy have agreed not to shell Fredericksburg, and families are preparing to return.

Accounts from Fredericksburg to-day are so confused that it is difficult to arrive at the truth. It is generally conceded that there has been no fighting. Passengers states that yesterday, as the cars were leaving, the enemy fired a few shells, which did no damage, except to frighten a few old ladies and children. Shortly afterwards Gen. Patrick crossed the river with flag of truce and promptly apologized for the outrage.

The latest advices represent that all is quiet, and the enemy gradually falling back in the direction of the Potomac. The fleet of transports in the Potomac may bring off the bulk of Burnside's army. This movement would seem to indicate an attack from Suffolk through the south side country, aided mainly by the fleet in James river.

A soldier was found drowned in the canal this morning.

Capt. C. A. Denordendorf, an Austrian, came prisoner by the central train last night from Gordonsville. He has documents showing he was aid to Gen. Banks, and had resigned. He is supposed to be a spy.

From the West.

CHATTANOOGA, Nov. 24.

News from Middle Tennessee is encouraging, our troops in fine spirits, and ready for Rosenecrantz when he ventures out of Nashville on that undertaking of his to subdue us which he promises to do.

Skirmishing continues daily on the Lebanon & Murfreesboro' turnpike, the cavalry only engaged.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston is expected here daily. His presence will greatly add to the present confidence and spirits of the troops.

From Virginia

RICHMOND, Nov. 25.

The Exchange Hotel was sold at Auction to-day $100,000.

RICHMOND, Nov. 24.

Nothing additional has transpired concerning Fredericksburg or Burnside's movements.

The Enquirer of this morning says the latest intelligence from Fredericksburg up to six o'clock last evening reports the enemy's guns were silenced and suppositions are rife that no attack upon the town would occur; that the enemy would execute a mysterious disappearance. Burnsides evidently desires to seige the South side of Rappahannock, and tardiness in essaying an attack is attributable more to prudence than strategy. Quite likely he will give up the accomplishment of his object not only for these reasons but from other and more pressing calls which will soon develope themselves.

By the last train which arrived at five o'clock yesterday a report brought that the enemy had thrown a number of shells into Port Royal, a village twenty two miles down the Rappahannock from Fredericksburg, four of them struck a house which for a week past has been occupied by our pickets.

RICHMOND, Nov. 24.

The skedaddle of the Abolitionists from Manassas is explained. On Friday last a party of nine Confederate scouts shot off from Jackson's corps in the direction of Manassas and on their approach at the outposts of the enemy, his scouts raised the alarm that Jackson was approaching, when Manassas was immediately abandoned and a speedy retreat of Seigles whole command towards Washington was the result. Our scouts went into Manassas, set fire to extensive stores deposited there, and returned to their command covered with glory.

Information from Tennessee gives the assurance that Rosencrantz has reached Nashville and has already thrown some of his forces out probably for the purpose of reconnoisance

The contiguity of two armies may at any moment bring on a great engagement in the vicinity of Murfreesboro or Lavergne.

Newspapers this morning announce four cases of bold and audacious robbery.

A writer in the Whig nominates John B. Floyd for the vacant Senatorship.

Brokers are buying Gold at 190 to 200 and selling at 225.

Later from Fredericksburg.

RICHMOND, Nov. 24.

Passengers by the evening train bring nothing new from Fredericksburg. No fighting has occurred, but the enemy occupy the same position as yesterday. Nothing positive has transpired concerning his movements. The impression prevails that he must retire from his present position or perform a movement not laid down in the programme, such as Jackson helped McClellan to perform. It will not require long to develope the design of the enemy, which will be promptly met.

Fredericksburg, it is said, presents a desolate appearance, nearly all the inhabitants having left. It is reported that the authorities advised against any returning for the present time. The report is that the enemy is gradually falling back towards the Potomac, but have yet no satisfactory proof that he has abandoned the design of advancing to Richmond by Fredericksburg.

EQUITY LAND SALES.

In obedience to a decree of the Court of Equity of Mecklenburg county, made for partition among the heirs at law of the late James Lonergan, dec'd, I will sell in the public square of Charlotte, on the 22d day of December, 1862, to the highest bidder executing bond with approved security, on a credit of six months with interest from sale, the following real estate, to-wit:

A valuable front Lot on Tryon street, two doors from the Mansion House, in Charlotte, twenty-seven feet front and running back one hundred and ninety-five feet, embracing a good two-story Brick Building containing six rooms, with a good kitchen, stable, ice-house, &c., making it a first-rate business stand.

Also, 500 acres, more or less, of first-rate farming Land, lying on the South Fork of the Catawba river, in Gaston county, 13 miles west of Charlotte, embracing an excellent barn and other good out-buildings, about one third of it being under a high state of cultivation, and the balance heavily timbered, and the whole well watered with good springs of fresh, cool water, well adapted to the culture of corn, wheat, cotton, &c.

A. G. WILLIAMSON, C. M. E.

Any further information may be obtained from Edward Lonergan, living at Lonergan's Ferry.
